FOUR DEATHS ARE REPORTED IN INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC AND A RED CROSS NURSE ARRIVES

The Spanish influenza outbreak shows no signs of diminution, said Inspector George Shorten this morning. The number of cases reported today is 70, with a great number in serious condition.

Arrangements already have been made for the equipping of the Third ward amusement hall as a temporary hospital for the treatment of influenza cases, particularly of transient visitors to the city who have neither home nor friends here. By tonight it is expected that either from Salt Lake, or supplied by local concerns, twenty beds will have been installed, and Miss Swanson, a Red Cross nurse from Salt Lake, placed in charge. The nurse arrived in the city at noon and immediately went into the matter of the detailed equipment of the hospital with Inspector Shorten.

For the time being it is thought that one emergency hospital will meet the demands of the situation, but the board of health is ready to do everything in its power to combat the epidemic by the opening of others should they be found necessary.

Gauze Masks. The local chapter of the Red Cross society rendered invaluable aid yesterday in the making of gauze masks which are now to be had in the office of the board of health. Any persons attending to the nursing of influenza patients are encouraged to wear one of these masks and procure it from the health office.

Quite a number of Ogden's physicians are of the opinion that a great many people are stampeding themselves into the belief that they are suffering from Spanish influenza when all that is the matter is that they are down with a very bad cold. The doctors incline to the opinion that the people are acting wisely in taking the bad cold seriously. The only place for such a patient at the present time is in bed where he may receive the best attention and be free from danger.

Among the deaths reported today is a little girl of two years, Isabella Blanchett Ault; Lawrence Beckett, 24 years old, and a soldier.

One of the soldier boys who was taken off the train a few days ago in a serious condition and conveyed to the Dee hospital died there last night from complications ensuing from an attack of influenza.

C. P. Fitzgerald, wife and children are down with influenza, and Mrs. Fitzgerald is in a serious condition.

MORE DEATHS FROM THE INFLUENZA ARE REPORTED

Johann Van der Akker, 3217 Washington avenue, died at his home Monday evening of pneumonia which resulted from an attack of Spanish influenza. Mr. Van der Akker had been ill five days. The deceased was born in Holland, October 14, 1883. He was a son of Johannes and Nellie Byzen Van der Akker. He came to Ogden 20 years ago. He had engaged in business as a real estate and insurance man but recently took a position at the Southern Pacific shops. He is survived by a widow and three children, John, Andrew and Evelyn; his mother, three brothers and one sister, Arle, Leonard and John Van der Akker and Mrs. Catherine De Jonge. The body will be held at the Larkin funeral chapel pending funeral arrangements.

Syracuse Death. After a week's illness from Spanish influenza which later developed into pneumonia Mrs. Harriet Chelotte Hansen died last night at her home in Syracuse, Utah. She was fifty years old and was the daughter of William and Margaret Hope Williams. Besides her children Clyde, Elsie, Ida, Fay, Lynn, Orin and Evan Hansen, and one grandchild, all of Syracuse, the following brothers and sisters survive her: Mrs. Margaret Lishman of Big Horn, Idaho; Mrs. Finetta Allen and William Williams of Hyrum, Utah; and Thomas Williams of Salem, Idaho. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of C. A. Lindquist and Sons and will be announced later.

Complaint is made that persons afflicted with influenza are mingling with the crowds in the center of the city. Monday afternoon a woman, whose husband is in a hospital with influenza and who had a well developed case of the disease, fainted on Washington avenue and was placed in a street car and sent to her home.

BABY DIES OF THE LOCAL EPIDEMIC

Isabella Blanchett Ault, 2-year-old daughter of L. Ault, died this morning of Spanish influenza, at the home, 2148 Sherburne avenue. The child had been ill nine days. The parents and five children survive. The funeral will be held at 4 p. m. today, in city cemetery.

CONGRESSMAN SEES BATTLEFIELDS OF EUROPE

Representative Milton H. Welling of Utah arrived in Ogden from Washington yesterday afternoon on his way home, where he was called by the serious illness of his wife.

Congressman Welling told of a very interesting trip he made to Europe, inspecting many of the battlefields. He arrived in Europe, August 15, and remained there until September 26.

Speaking of the spirit and endurance of the allies, Mr. Welling paid special tribute to the Italian soldiers and said their work, courage and fighting qualities were above all praise.

Describing the fighting near Chateau Thierry, Mr. Welling said the American marines, beyond a particle of doubt, saved Paris from the German hordes.

In the fight south of the Marne, he told how the French general commanding this sector of the front threw his arms around General Bullard, at the head of American infantry, and begged him not to advance—that it was plain murder. About 80 per cent of the companies engaged were casualties. They not only stopped the crack German regiments, but held them for three days—long enough to give General Foch his opportunity to strike the blow on the flank of the German salient from Soissons to Chateau Thierry which changed the whole aspect of the war.

Mr. Welling visited the emplacement of the big gun south of Fismes which it had ever been used, might have wiped Paris off the map. He said the emplacement was made of concrete and steel and that army engineering experts estimated the amount of steel in the structure at 700 tons. It was circular in shape and had a diameter of 30 feet. On the outer edge of this huge circle was a groove for steel ball-bearings from 12 to 14 inches thick on which the huge gun was to revolve in hurling its charge of "kultur" into Paris. The gun had a range of about forty miles and had actually been fired through the tree tops to test it, but not in the direction of Paris.

Relating his experiences on the Italian battle front, Mr. Welling told a graphic story of the defeat of the Austrians at Montello and of the debacle of Emperor Charles' forces on the Piave. He described the keystone of the Italian line—Mont Grappa—as a mountain about 8000 feet high with steep cliffs and seemingly inaccessible. While going up the mountain, he said, he got the only real bad scare while in Europe. The road to the summit was on the edge of at least 60 degrees and on the edge of a sheer cliff which caused them to wonder how such a road ever was built.

LAWRENCE U. BECKETT DIES OF SPANISH INFLUENZA

Lawrence U. Beckett, well-known young man of this city and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Beckett, Sr., was called by death this morning at 7 o'clock at the family home, rear 2465 Monroe avenue, where since early Sunday morning he has been ill of pneumonia, caused by an attack of Spanish influenza.

The father stated today that his son was taken ill very suddenly and that on Sunday at 10 a. m. he met Lawrence as he alighted from the street car on his way home and at the time, the young man appeared seriously ill. Mrs. Beckett, wife of the deceased and Miss Ellen Beckett, a sister are at present ill of the malady, but are recovering nicely. Lawrence resided at 2059 Ballantyne avenue.

Lawrence was known by a great many Ogdenites as a young man of high ideals and cheery disposition and his death will sadden the hearts of a large circle of friends. He was employed by the Ogden Paint and Glass company as manager of their service station at Twenty-seventh street and Washington avenue.

Mr. Beckett was born, November 7, 1894, the son of Harriet Underwood and Henry W. Beckett and one year ago was married to Miss Eva Wheelwright who with the parents and the following brothers and sisters, survives: Louis S., Henry W., Jr., Howard C., Clarence S., Ray H., Fred L., Ellen L., and Rhea G. Beckett all of Ogden. Howard C. Beckett is now at Camp Fremont, Cal., in the service of his country.

EVERY NURSE IN OGDEN AND WEBER COUNTY TO BE CALLED ON TO HELP DURING THIS EMERGENCY

Under the direction of Apostle D. O. McKay, Ogden commenced the task of doing its part in the nation-wide survey of nurses this morning when a meeting of the bishops of the Church of Latter-day Saints from every ward in the city was held on the lawn of the Weber normal college and the plan of canvass was fully explained by the apostle.

The bishops will work in conjunction with the chairmen of the local Red Cross units and make an exhaustive canvass of the whole city. Wherever there is found any person of nursing experience who is not now in active service a questionnaire will be filled out, giving in full detail the name, age, place of training, actual experience and other important details.

It is not generally known how urgent the call for nurses is. The estimated total number of nurses in the United States is placed at between 80,000 and 100,000. The total needed from the beginning of the U. S. participation in the war, April, 1917 to January 1, 1919, is 27,000. The total actually secured and assigned to duty by the American Red Cross up to August 1, 1918, is 13,360. Between now and January 1, 1919, there are needed 13,640 and out of that number the surgeon general wants by October, 8000.

Nursery Resources. By this survey it is expected that the American Red Cross will come into possession of an accurate mass of information as to the actual nursing resources of the country and be able thereby to proceed in the work of assignment so as to meet the needs of the military situation as they arise as well as meeting the local demands.

Chairman of Red Cross units will at once get into touch with the bishop of their respective wards and offer themselves and their helpers so that Ogden may make a 100 per cent report in the shortest possible time.

Below is given the list of instructions to those who make the survey.

TEXT OF REPLY TO GERMAN CHANCELLOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today answered Germany's peace proffer with a note declaring anew that there can be no peace with a German government controlled by a military autocracy and no thought of an armistice while German atrocities continue on land and sea.

The text of the president's answer follows:

"Sirs: In reply to the communication of the German government, dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today, I have the honor to request you to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the reichstag of the terms laid down by the president of the United States of America in his address to the congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the president in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the president feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The president feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace, its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction, which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued, which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the president should Instructions to Surveyors.

1. First of all familiarize yourself with the importance of the survey and with the items of the questionnaire in order to be sure you understand them thoroughly before beginning work.
2. Make sure that every woman in the territory assigned to you either does or does not come within one of the seven classes called for on the questionnaire. This includes women who have been or are now in one of these classes:
a. Graduate nurses
b. Pupils nurses
c. Untrained nurses
d. Trained attendants
e. Practical nurses
f. Midwives
g. Women who have taken Red Cross courses.
3. All canvassing should be done in person and not by mail.
4. Every woman coming within one of these classes is expected to fill out a questionnaire; upon her failure to do so, ascertain her reasons and report same to the executive secretary of the survey in your chapter.
5. By reading the questionnaire it will be seen that section "A" consists of general questions to be answered by each nurse regardless of her classification, and that she is also to answer one of the other seven sections according to her professional classification.
6. The nurses should be impressed with the fact that this questionnaire does not in itself constitute enrollment but merely furnishes information.
7. Encourage graduate nurses to fill out the application for enrollment found at the bottom of the last page of the questionnaire, but do not require them to do so.
8. Special information about any nurse, in addition to the specific facts called for by the questionnaire, may be written on a separate sheet and attached to the questionnaire.
9. The surveyor should place his or her name in the upper right hand corner of each questionnaire turned in.

very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the president delivered at Mount Vernon on the 4th of July, last.

"It is as follows: 'The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or, if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency.'

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The president's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The president feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The president will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial governments of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING," Mr. Frederick Oederlin, Charge d'affaires, ad interim, in charge of German interests in the United States.

DRANK BITTERS AND WAS CAUGHT BY THE POLICE

Jim Dean was not so well Monday so he came into town after working hard and determined to spend the night with friends. Towards nightfall he got tired of soft drinks and fell on a bottle of bitters of which he drank too much.

Later he was arrested for being drunk and this morning told his plain unvarnished story to the court. On account of a previous good record, Judge Barker passed a suspended sentence of thirty days.

Mr. Dean said that he would not try that kind of merriment in that kind of quantity any more.
